HAPPY BIRTHDAY ~ MY FRIEND

Although our paths seldom cross I have many great memories from the early years. It's a pity the 1982 roll of film disappeared, when you had the private party in Brugge, Belgium and took all of us on a night club tour!

Your compliment at the 1980 Miss Olympia remains one of my favorites of all time. You admired my yellow evening gown and poked my side saying, "You gotta be da sexiest grandmudder in da world!"

A more recent meeting was when you presented my National Fitness Hall of Fame Induction Award in 2011, and we were invited to the Todd's Sports Museum in Austin, Texas.

Doris Barrilleaux "The First Lady of Bodybuilding"

Dear Arnold ^{HAPPY} 70 Birthday

Kendra and I want to wish you a Happy 70th birthday. You have been an inspiration to so many of us who have chosen the bodybuilding lifestyle. Your life has proven that all things are possible with goals, determination and a never quit attitude.

As a bodybuilder in my fifties battling Multiple Sclerosis, I was honored and humbled when you acknowledged me with the Health Advocate Lifetime Achievement Award in 2015. I will never forget that day as one of the greatest in my life.

Your compassion and heart to help others has been evident throughout your lifetime and your recognition of what I am achieving with MS has enabled me and Kendra to reach so many more people throughout the world with this disease and lead them to a life of fitness. Your support has positively impacted the MS community.

Thank you, Arnold, for being such a great role model and leader. Keep going strong!

Happy Birthday to the Austrian Oak!

Dear Arnold,

I have been blessed with being able to make my passion for fitness, love for people, and desire to helping them into a 20+ year career. And I have you to thank for it.

From the age of 15, when I first picked up the Encyclopedia of Bodybuilding, I was hooked. You have been the single biggest influence in my not only my competitive bodybuilding career, but my personal training career, as well.

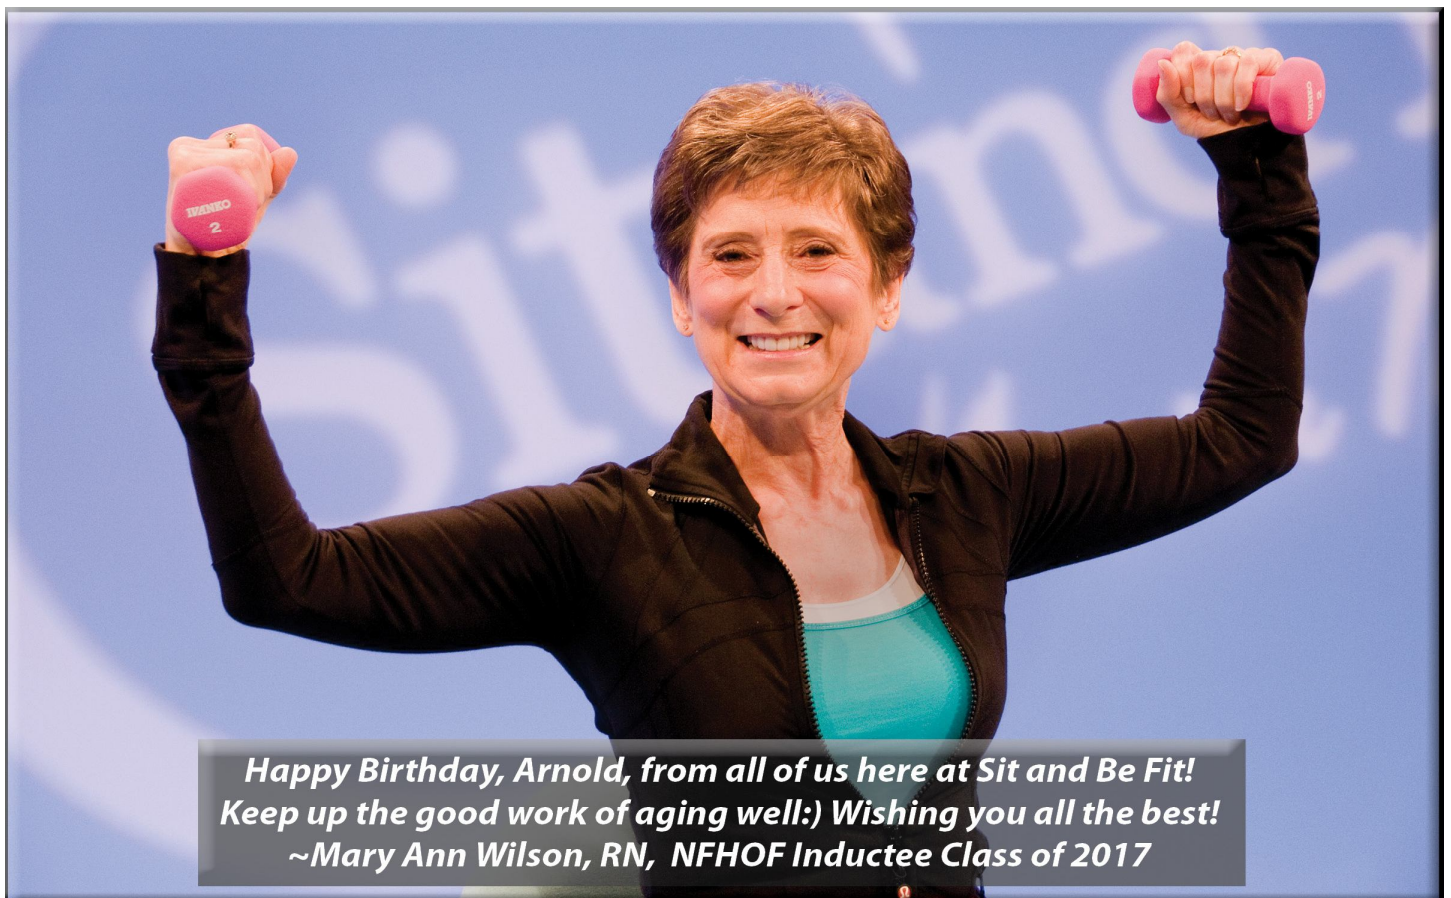

And as I see you entering your 7th decade of life and still going strong, you continue to inspire my journey going forward as I grow older, yet remain strong, agile, vibrant, and full of life.

I thank you, Arnold! From putting bodybuilding on the map, to making some of my favorite movies, to your political activism, and (most of all) being such a great ambassador for fitness.

Happy 70th Birthday Arnold Schwarzenegger!

Arnold you were a great influence on me to become a professional bodybuilder. Reading about you in the Joe Weider magazines is where I first saw you and from there I knew I wanted to be a bodybuilder. Your influence in bodybuilding made more people aware of the sport then any other man before or after.

Happy Birthday Arnold! Your friend, Rich Gaspari

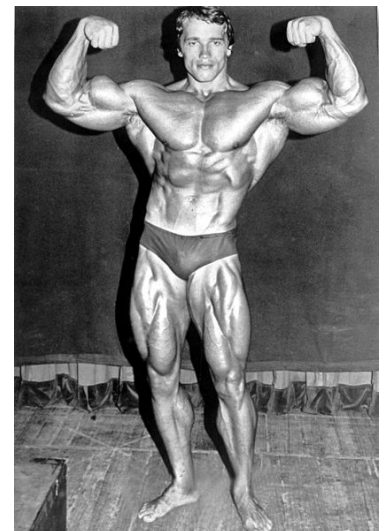

Hi Arnold,

I hope your 70th birthday is super. The first time I met you I was 20 and I gave you a copy of a magazine of you right after you came to America. It was at the grand opening in Chicago at a Chicago Health Club, Farrah Fawcett was with you. Little did I know 7 years later I would be honored to have my pic taken with you and be Mr. Universe as well! As you were then you are still and inspiration even to and old man like me. Now go have some cake!

Best, Lance Dreher

Arnold the greatest ambassador the sport of bodybuilding has ever had. HAPPY HAPPY 70th birthday. No one has ever done more for the sport than you my friend. You brought it out of the dark ages and into the movies. What a special gift you have. The exhibitions we've done and the Guest Posing together will be something I will never forget. The sport of bodybuilding thank you. ~ Pat Neve

Arnold, from the National Fitness Hall of Fame, we all wish you a Happy 70th Birthday!

Hi Arnold! Welcome to the Septuagenarian Club! I joined it 21 years ago and those years were some of the best years of my life! You have proved that quote of my husband and your friend, Jack Lalanne, "Anything in Life is possible and you can make it happen." You DID make it happen and you ARE making it happen!!!

I've personally witnessed the fact that you vowed to give back to this country for what it has given you. You cared about our youth and the inner city kids. You have spent your own money, flying in your airplane to many US cities, to promote sports and physical fitness.

You became a world champion Body Builder, a Movie Star, astute businessman, dynamic speaker, author, and Governor for the State of California. Now you are carrying out your dream of bringing the Arnold Sports Festival from Columbus Ohio to the world with locations in Australia, South America, Africa Europe and Korea so far; always thinking of how you can help the youth of America and encouraging and promoting sports and fitness wherever you go.

Happy Birthday and may the joy you give to others come back to you always.

Health and Blessings,

"LaLa" and Jack in Heaven

Arnold,

From history's greatest body builder, to best selling author, to biggest box office draw in Hollywood, to Governor of a state; your eclectic career leaves us dazzled. I know you only from your public image, and that image is a cultural treasure. You have presented a marvelous sense of humor, a sincere desire to serve others, and an enormous passion for fitness. While your legacy is continuing to be established, there is no doubt that it will continue to impact the lives of generations well into the future.

Happy birthday Arnold, and all the best for a continued life well lived.
